amounting to 1,335,000 bu, as against 1,241,600 bu, increase last year.

The buils worked hard to advance prices, but they did not succeed. There were reports of export sales of 44 loads that held the market about steady, for a short time, but later they became dispusted at their failure to bring about a change for the better, and throwing their long stuff on the market, there was a decline to the low point of the day, Dec. selling at 125c and May at 765c, while the close was be lower for the former at 755c and higher off for the latter, at 755c asked. Oct. at close was nominally be lower at 715c.

and skirts or as a finish to revera, collars, copes, suffice, etc.

This model is practical for silk, velvet or wool materials. It is close fitting at the top and has the correct flare around the hottom. The fullness in the back is laid in two plaits, which are stitched down flat about six inches from the waist line. This gives the effect of a habit back, with graceful underlying fullness failing from the center.

ful underlying fullness failing from the centor.

The skirt is especially designed for women of full proportions, to whom the long, graceful lines of the narrow gores are exceedingly becoming. The patiern is cut in larger sizes than usual, running as high as thirty-six inches waist reassure.

To make this skirt in the medium size will require five and one-quarter yards of material forty-four inches wide. The pattern, No, 1789, is cut in sizes for a 22, 24, 25, 28, 30, 32, 34 and 36 inch waist measure.

Dry Goods.

New York, Cet 2h.-The market has not eponed for the week very actively, the warm weather being a hindrene to the encapyment of jobbers' trade. Stecks in first and second hands remain in sood condition, with some well sold shead at current veltes, with some agents turning down future businesse on account of the instillity of their milis to account further orders except for delivery in the distant future. The cotton market has had little trefusues upon trading, as agents declare will be no possibility of a pending weakness in the price of piece goods. Agents look for an imprevenment after the election, but whether there will be a radical change at that time is a sussetian which few are willing to anway decided. In wooders and wersteds in the time is a sussetian which few are willing to nawer decidedly. In wooders and wersted to the condition than Saturday, with sales of small amount.
